

World Book Day- 4th March 2021

Thursday (4th March) is World Book Day, a global celebration recognised in over 100 countries.

This year, it will look a little different for many young people, which is why - at Hartwell Primary School - we believe it's more important than ever to celebrate our favourite authors, illustrators and books - and most of all to celebrate the power of reading itself. We are suggesting the following activities for World Book Day:

- Dress up as a favourite book character. If you're at home take a picture and email it to us at school and we will find a way of sharing your efforts.
- Blind date with a book. If you're in school, then come to the library to choose a mysterious book that's wrapped in brown paper with only the blurb to judge it by... could you choose a new author that you have never tried before? These will be kept wrapped for the other children's return to school.
- Teachers Swap to read to another class. Each class will have the treat of hearing a story from another teacher as a recorded Streams clip.
- What book is it essential that others read? If there is a book that it is essential that others read please let us know. Your teachers will give out a tag to fill in the books details and we will hang them on the trees in our library.

Let's keep our love of books growing!
